

Teaching Unit: Applied Spanish

Sub Topic: Spanish Language and Culture

Essential Understandings

Knowledge and Skills

Many people in the world communicate in Spanish.

Knowing another language will help you to better communicate with people.

Other cultures have similarities and differences to our culture.

Other cultures have similar and different holidays than we do and they have similarities and differences in their celebrations of these holidays.

Learning another language will help you to understand your own language better.

Be able to introduce yourself to someone in another language.

Greet and say goodbye to Spanish-speaking people.

Be able to count to 100 in Spanish.

Know how to say the days of the weeks and the months.

Know how to tell about things you like, love and dislike.

Be able to answer negatively and be able to ask a question in Spanish.

Know simple verbs and tell what you like and don't like to do.

Know simple weather expressions and the seasons.

Learn Spanish words for articles of clothing and related vocabulary.

Know the basic colors.

Learn about the agreement of adjectives.

Be able to describe yourself.

Know how to tell time in Spanish.

Learn the rooms in a house and parts of a house.

Know family members and how to tell how old someone is.

Know how to say you are hungry or thirsty.

Know words for sports.

Find out about a Spanish-speaking country by finding a location map, a relief map, and a products map. Make a flag of the country. Give the population, capital city, major religions, languages spoken, currency, chief products, major cities, and weather. Find cultural information about that country and similarities and differences to our own country.

Learn about "the Spanish holidays El Día de los Muertos", "La Navidad", and "Cinco de Mayo".

Teaching Unit: Applied French

Essential Understandings

Many people in the world communicate in Spanish.

Knowing another language will help you to better communicate with people.

Other cultures have similarities and differences to our culture.

Other cultures have similar and different holidays than we do and they have similarities and differences in their celebrations of these holidays.

Learning another language will help you to understand your own language better.

Sub Topic: French language and Culture

Knowledge and Skills

Be able to introduce yourself to someone in another language.

Greet and say goodbye to French-speaking people.

Be able to count to 100 in French.

Know how to say the days of the weeks and the months.

Know how to tell about things you like, love and dislike.

Be able to answer negatively and be able to ask a question in French.

Know simple verbs and tell what you like and don't like to do.

Know simple weather expressions and the seasons.

Learn French words for articles of clothing and related vocabulary.

Know the basic colors.

Learn about the agreement of adjectives.

Be able to describe yourself.

Know how to tell time in French.

Learn the rooms in a house and parts of a house.

Know family members and how to tell how old someone is.

Know how to say you are hungry or thirsty.

Know words for sports.

Find out about a French-speaking country by finding a location map, a relief map, and a products map. Make a flag of the country. Give the population, capital city, major religions, languages spoken, currency, chief products, major cities, and weather. Find cultural information about that country and similarities and differences to our own country.

Learn about "the French holidays "Noel", and "Mardi Gras"..
